

Planning Issues

I continue to work closely with the Mill Hill Preservation Society whose meetings I always try to attend, and who do such an excellent job in keeping a watchful eye over local planning applications and our environment, more generally. I issue regular email updates on planning matters in the area – if you'd like them, then please email updates@hendonlabourparty.com.

Schools

I've continued my programme of school visits, calling over the last year on Dollis Junior, Deansbrook, St Vincent's and Mathilda Marks-Kennedy – the latter three schools were winners in my annual greetings card competition!

I've visited Cophall for my annual discussion with the 6th Form - I held a very lively Q & A session. I also invite heads and key staff and governors to Westminster for meetings with ministers, to put their views at first hand to the Government.

Community Involvement

Over the last year, I've held tea parties for residents to meet with me at the Royal British Legion, Edgware (who have also done me the honour of electing me their President) and at the Mill Hill East Church Hall, Salcombe Gardens. I've continued with my regular street stall in Mill Hill Broadway.

I've been working closely with the National Institute for Medical Research, supporting their concerns over relocation.

I was pleased to be invited to give the first lecture at St Paul's Church in their series on the 200th anniversary of the abolition of the slave trade – my presentation – “Wilberforce the Parliamentarian” is on my website www.andrewdismoremp.com.

I also attended the wonderful inaugural concert of the Mill Hill Music Festival. I was also pleased to give my backing to Mill Hill United Synagogue's hall redevelopment plan, which has been approved.

I nominated 'Day of the Raj' on Mill Hill Broadway for the 'Tiffin Cup' – the MPs' charity competition for the best South Asian restaurant in the country – they were “highly commended”.
